The Whyte Avenue Art Walk Closes This Weekend

This is the final weekend for this year's version of The Whyte Avenue Art Walk. Come down and take in this interactive arts experience until August 1st.

For the past eight weeks, Edmonton artists have been showcasing their talents and selling their work as part of the 2021 Whyte Avenue Art Walk. This year's event moved indoors to the former Army & Navy building and featured 35 to 55 artists each week for a total of 230 artists. A full gallery of this year's artists can be found at art-walk.ca

"It was a huge risk to try a big art exhibition after restrictions are lifted. Artists are thrilled to come out and show all they have created. Some artists are bringing 100 + pieces and we are filling 25,000 square feet on two floors. Whether you are an artist, a collector or just curious our event is a visual feast full of inspiration! Don't miss it."
Kim Fjordbotten, Whyte Avenue Art Walk Co-Producer, The Paint Spot

We do not know what next year will bring, but we do know we will be back in Old Strathcona July 8 to 10, 2022. Save the date!

In the meantime, grab a mask and add a trip to The Whyte Avenue Art Walk as part of your August Long Weekend plans. Tickets are $5 and available at the door. Don't miss out on your chance to see this year's works of art!

About the Whyte Avenue Art Walk

The Whyte Avenue Art Walk is a non-juried event that attracts professional artists, amateurs, and students. People are invited to buy art directly from the artists. All artists, brave enough to share their work, are welcome to participate. Artists are encouraged to bring their supplies and creativity and make art right on site, providing an exciting opportunity for visitors to engage in many creative processes.
